

newdesign

issuefiftyfour2007

Handle with care

Dinner time
Rapid service

Crime seen
Judgement day

Fast forward
Going for gold

Rapid prototyping | Sustainability | Packaging | Innovation | Sports technology

Young blood

This September visitors to Tent London will be able to do some serious talent spotting

A new multidisciplinary design event is launching at this year's London Design Festival. From the creators of 100% Design, Tent London, taking place at the Truman Brewery from 20 to 23 September, will show art and architecture, vintage and contemporary design by emerging and established designers from around the world.

Over 300 exhibitors will participate in a variety of shows and juried events including Talent Zone, of which newdesign is media partner. With a strong accent on the development of the future generation of designers, Tent London carefully hand-picked 150 graduates from the many UK design degree shows to flaunt their wares. The result is an exciting mix covering all design disciplines from interaction design through to furniture and product design as well as ceramics and jewellery. Here is a taster of what will be on show... |

www.tentlondon.co.uk

Name | Alexa Lixfeld
Graduated from | Köln International School of Design
Project | CreaCrete table-ware

Name | Hsiao-wei Lin
Graduated from | Central Saint Martins College of Art & Design - Jewellery Design
Project | Form & Function

Name | Laura Perryman
Graduated from | Royal College of Art - Constructed Textiles
Project | The 800mm Chairs

Name | Matt Mackeson
Graduated from | Brighton University - Wood, Metal, Ceramics and Plastics
Project | Grid Series